	JEB DUNNUCK	Mai 2019 :  /  From a tiny 2.41-hectare site of clay and limestone soils, the 2018 Château d'Aiguilhe Querre offers beautiful minerality as well as classic notes of black cherries, blackberries, dried flowers and spice. This medium to full-bodied, ripe, fleshy 2018 has good density, ripe tannins, and a great finish. Readers looking for a smoking value should snatch this up. The blend of the 2018 is 80% Merlot and 20% Cabernet Franc, and it will spend a year in 50% new French oak.
	ROBERT PARKER	Avril 2019 :  /  This 2.41-hectare vineyard sits atop the clay and limestone plateau of Saint-Philippe-d'Aiguilhe. It is planted at a density of 5,500 vines per hectare, with an average vine age of 37 years in 2018. The blend is 80% Merlot and 20% Cabernet Franc. The wine will age for 12 months in 50% new and 50% one-year-old barrels and has 13.5% alcohol. Deep purple-black colored, the 2018 d'Aiguilhe-Querre gives up exuberant notes of plum preserves, baked cherries and fruitcake with nuances of potpourri, mossy bark and a waft of cedar. The palate is medium-bodied with great intensity and is laden with spicy black fruit preserves, finishing chewy.
